FOLK'S GRAFT TALK SAYS PARTY NAMES DO NOT MEAN ANYTHING

IT IS WHAT REPRESENTATIVES OF PARTIES DO THAT TELLS STORY—STONE AND ROOSEVELT.

(From Yesterday's First Edition.)
Kansas City, April 12.—Five hundred Missouri Democrats attended a banquet at the Midland Hotel in this city tonight given by the Missouri State Democratic Press Association to commemorate the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson. Of this number 150 were editors of Missouri newspapers and the remainder were prominent Democrats from various parts of the state.

The principal speakers were Governor Joseph W. Folk, United States Senator William J. Stone and Congressman Charles A. Towne of New York. Addresses were also delivered by Charles W. Knapp of the St. Louis Republic and Judge W. W. Evans, chairman of the Democratic State committee. Colonel David Fleming of Kansas City and several others responded to requests for impromptu speeches. T. W. Stephens, president of the association and editor of the Herald at Columbia, Mo., acted as toastmaster.

Graft Evil.

Governor Folk spoke in part as follows:

"Graft in its analysis is a special privilege, either exercised contrary to law or one the law itself may give. Some special privilege is at the bottom of every graft. No one ever heard of an official being corrupted in order to give equal rights to all. It is always for the purpose of obtaining some special privilege for a few."

"An unprecedented political revival is going on in the United States today on this subject. The next few years will be distinguished as the time in which the reign of the special privilege is brought to an end and the doctrine of equal rights fixed in national politics and in the conscience of mankind."

"The atmosphere will be clearer and the body politic cleaner for the stamping out and cure of civic evils. There is no secret remedy known for corruption. It cannot be cured by hiding it. The developments of the last few years should inspire optimism and no pessimism, as to the future. The punishment of rascals is not going to cause the overthrow of the republic. Old fashioned ideas of honesty are being applied to the new fashioned business. The command, 'Thou shall not steal,' has again become binding. This does not mean socialism, which says to another, 'What is thine is mine,' but it means an equal opportunity to all to have, to hold and to enjoy the fruits of honest labor and no special privileges to a class to prey upon the rest of the people."

Party Names Mean Nothing.

"The time has come when the people will no longer respond to mere party names. Parties must stand for something, must be positive force, not a mere negative quantity. Whatever may be said of the accomplishment of any party in days gone by, the question is now not what the Democratic party did fifty years ago, or what the Republican party did forty years ago, but what they stand for now, and what do they propose to do now. The way to determine this is not merely by reading the platform, but by finding out what the candidates represent, who are they, are honest and courageous and whether they are supported or not by special privilege and the lawless element. It is a very good rule to follow to ascertain on which side the enemies of the people and of representative government are fighting and then get on the other side and oppose them. One may feel assured that he cannot be far from right."

In closing his address Senator Stone said:

"Enough has been said in all reason to show that Theodore Roosevelt's administration of his great office is not such as should inspire Democratic admiration. Although obtrusive, audacious and spectacular, his career, as I view it, has been signalized by weakness, not strength; by vacillation, not steadfastness; by vacuity, not solid work. For whatever he may do that is right give credit. I am neither for him nor against him; I simply take him for what he is. I will support him when he is right, but I shall not count him with blandishments nor swell his vanity by blowing upon him the incense of flattery. I am a Democrat, and under the banner of that grand old party I am content to stay. And let us all stand here in Missouri."

Next Wednesday night there will be another meet and at this time the second relay race will be run off for the silver cup.

NOT HEREDITARY.

Baldness Due to a Living Minute Germ.

Many people, even unto the present day of grace, consider baldness due to hereditary influence.

Nothing is further from the truth—baldness is caused by the onslaught of a minute organism which secretes it self beneath the scalp and attacks the roots of the hair—causing it to lose its life and fall out.

This organism cannot be got rid of except by the tree and persevering use of Newbro's Herpele.

No matter how badly the scalp is infected the dandruff surely disappears and hair health is restored when Herpele is applied.

"Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpele Co., Detroit, Mich., Hollister Drug Co., special agents.
